THE ARIZONA REPUBLICAN

TWENTY-SECOND YEAR

PHOENIX, ARIZONA, THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 2, 1911.

VOL. XXII. NO. 166.

WIT AND ORATORY WERE IN EVIDENCE AT THE MEETING

Third Avenue Theatre Was Crowded Last Night to Hear the Exposition of Republican Party's Principles.

ALL ISSUES WERE ABLY DISCUSSED

Wells, Sturges, Cameron, Williams and Smith Spoke on Issues of Campaign in Logical and Convincing Way.

The largest, the most enthusiastic, and by all odds, the best political meeting that has assembled in Phoenix this year was the republican gathering at the Third Avenue theatre last night, which was addressed by Judge Wells, Colonel Sturges, Ralph Cameron, Hoyal A. Smith, and John S. Williams.

It was one of those meetings where there was no necessity to manufacture enthusiasm. The crowd seemed to have plenty of it and the telling points made by the speakers were received with spontaneous applause. And there was a splendid thing about this speaking—there was such a variety that the particular taste of every one must have been met.

For instance, there was the careful, instructive, and well considered address of Judge Wells; the brief and witty speech of Colonel Sturges, that was replete with catchy epigrams and solid sense; the enthusiastic, hammer-and-tongs style of Ralph Cameron, the convincing argument of Hoyal Smith, and the composite of wit and oratory, delivered by Jack Williams, that brought laughter and applause at the end of every other sentence.

The meeting was presided over by P. H. Hayes, chairman of the central committee, who introduced the speakers in turn. On the platform were a number of distinguished republicans, candidates and others.

The speech of Judge Wells was a dignified, scholarly, and unassuming presentation of his claims upon the people of Arizona as the republican candidate for governor.

Many important things discussed by the judge, which won the approval of his audience. But probably the most important was that part of his speech which dealt with his course in the constitutional convention.

"I opposed the insertion of the recall and the initiative and referendum sections in that instrument," said Judge Wells, "because I knew they were opposed by President Taft and because I knew they, therefore, endangered statehood. The facts have shown that we who took that position were right. The president did reject the statehood bill, with the judiciary recall in it; and the reason why he did not include the initiative and the referendum in his veto message was because these matters are involved in the Oregon case and will soon be passed upon by the supreme court. But I will say this—the constitution has been adopted and it is my constitution just as it is yours and just as it is the constitution of every good citizen. And I will say further that if I am elected to the office of governor one of my first official acts will be to recommend to the legislature the re-submission of the judicial recall to the people of the new state."

"It has been charged that I was opposed to statehood. That is both untrue and absurd. I will tell you why. Do you know that by the enabling act the state of Arizona is granted 4,000,000 acres of land, worth at least $12,000,000? That the proceeds from that land are to be applied to the endowment of various institutions, and that $2,000,000 of it will go to the payment of the bonds and accrued interest charged against several of the counties? As a property owner and a taxpayer do you suppose for a moment that I would oppose statehood when it meant so much to me and so much to every other property owner in Arizona?"

It is impossible here to give even an outline of all of Judge Wells' speech. But among other things it may be mentioned that he spoke in favor of the establishment of an immigration and publicity bureau, to which he proposes to give his attention, and which shall work for the upbuilding of the new state. The remarks of the judge were given close attention and he was frequently applauded.

Ralph Cameron went to his subject from shoulder to shoulder. That subject dealt with his record in congress and with his plans for the future with reference to the enactment of laws for the good of the people of the new state. He said he was not in the habit of making promises that could not be fulfilled and he said that if the people of this state elect the republican ticket he is confident that within five years there will be evidence of such growth in

THEY ARE ALL O. K., DECLARES SECRETARY

Meyer Thinks Uncle Sam's Fighting Ships Are in Condition to Meet All Requirements.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Information demonstrated its preparedness for any emergency and has shown the effectiveness of the present organization," George Von L. Meyer, secretary of the navy, made this statement today on board the president's yacht after an inspection of the 39 fighting ships of the Atlantic fleet, assembled in the Hudson river for the greatest mobilization in the history of the American navy. President Taft will review the fleet tomorrow as it passes out to sea. Standing erect in a speedy launch, silk hatted, his frock coat flapping in a twenty mile wind, the secretary sped from ship to ship during the inspection. Each flagship saluted with nineteen guns as he passed. Members of the house committee on naval affairs, who followed the secretary on his visits to each flagship, were honored with a salute of seventeen guns. Besides the secretary, congressmen, foreign sea fighters, prominent officials of New York and others witnessed the inspection. About two hundred thousand people witnessed the scene from the shore.

IT'S FIRST DEGREE. Second Jury in Celebrated Harry Thorne Case Has Found the Defendant Guilty.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 1.—The second trial of Harry Thorne, charged with murder in connection with the killing of George W. Fassell, a groceryman, resulted in a second verdict of guilty here tonight. The Salt Lake statutes provide for death by hanging or shooting for first degree murder. Fassell was killed by one bandit of a pair, who robbed his store in March, 1910. They were discovered rifling the cash drawer by the owner, Thomas Riley, Thorne's accomplice, and so sentenced to death. An appeal was taken to the supreme court, which granted a retrial in Thorne's case. Thorne will be sentenced November 19.

CAUSED AN AVALANCHE. Awful Explosion of Powder Magazine Changes the Topography of an Entire Mountain.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 1.—Bringing his brother, Harold Holbrook, who was injured under an avalanche of earth, William L. Holbrook, a miner employed at the New Jersey mine on top of Copper mountain, arrived here today, telling of an explosion of dynamite that changed the whole topography of the mountain. It occurred during an electrical storm when lightning touched off the powder magazine, located in an abandoned tunnel of the mine. The shock caused thousands of tons of earth to shift, opened a fissure in the ground and tumbled the superintendent's office and cabin into it. Harold was almost buried, but was rescued alive.

PULITZER FUNERAL. Obsequies Held at St. Thomas Church, Which Was Filled With Friends and Relations.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The Episcopal church performed the last rites this afternoon over the body of Joseph Pulitzer, the newspaper publisher. Interment was in Woodlawn cemetery. The choir of St. Thomas church sang music of which Mr. Pulitzer, in his life time, was fond. The mourners included so many relatives, personal friends and employees of the former publisher that there was little room in the church for the public. The honorary pall bearers were Nicholas Murray Butler, Lewis L. Clarke, Colonel George B. Harvey, Frederick H. Judson, General John B. Henderson, Seth Low, St. Clair McKelway, George L. Rives, Dr. James W. McLane, J. Agnes Shaw.

THEY'RE IN THE TOILS. Prominent Democratic Politicians of New York Charged With Commission of Serious Offense.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—An information charging criminal conspiracy against four persons, among them democratic leaders in two Long Island boroughs of New York, and one democratic candidate for the supreme court bench, was filed late today by Assistant District Attorney William A. DeFord of New York county. Conspiracy is charged in connection with the nomination of William Willet as democratic candidate for supreme court justice.

CRUSHED TO DEATH. EUREKA, Utah, Nov. 1.—Caught by a cave-in which occurred today at the Chief Consolidated mine, Walter Ferguson and William Allen were crushed to death. John Johnson sustained serious injury.

GREAT FLEET REVIEW WAS PERFECT SUCCESS

Naval Ceremony Went Along Without a Single Hitch and Strictly According to Schedule.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—In perfect fighting trim the Pacific fleet underwent, off this port, the first naval review ever held in southern California waters, when 26 vessels, without exception, passed a close scrutiny this afternoon by Rear Admiral Thomas, the reviewing officer. The review was so satisfactory that even the lawmakers who are active in trying to secure additional men-of-war in the Pacific, can not kick except possibly on numbers. The review was held outside the breakwater, where the vessels cast anchor this morning after steaming slowly up last night from San Diego. Admiral Thomas, temporarily passing his flag from the flagship California to the gunboat Vicksburg, received civilians on board during the forenoon. In the afternoon he drew all the vessels of his command in an octagonal position. With the Iroquois as tender, the Vicksburg steamed slowly down the column of vessels, each of which fired the admiral's salute of thirteen guns as he passed. After the review Thomas escorted his guests to the battleship Oregon, from the deck of which they witnessed a diving exhibition by the submarines, Pike and Grampus.

THERE MAY BE A TRIAL SOME TIME

If McNamara Lives Long Enough He May Finally Be Tried on Murder Charge.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—With thirteen months today elapsed since 21 persons lost their lives in the explosion and fire which destroyed the Los Angeles Times, hardly a beginning of the jury has been secured tonight in the trial of James B. McNamara, accused of the murder of Charles J. Haggerty, a machinist, one of the victims. Counsel for the state estimated in two months more a jury may be secured. Today's efforts did nothing in the direction of securing a jury for the case. In the beginning of the day the state withdrew its opposition to the challenge of one spokesman and the examination of another, who it is certain can never reach the jury and to two others, released before court closed. There are still nine spokesmen in the box, and the last two days no accessions to their number has been made. Of these nine, perhaps two may be on the final jury.

FOUND BIG BUNCH OF COUNTERFEIT BILLS

Notes Hidden in Jackson Park, Chicago, Have Been Recovered by the Police Officers.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—A package containing 143 counterfeit ten-dollar notes was found buried beneath a tree in Jackson Park today by Captain Thos. L. Porter, of the federal secret service. The bills were recovered after a confession by Albert Leon, who was arrested two weeks ago in New York and brought here. Leon said he was at the head of a successful counterfeit gang and is a Russian political refugee. For months notes of this kind have circulated in the middle and far west. They were made, according to officers, in a log cabin in Nootka, an island off the coast of British Columbia. The notes were made on many banks of this country and foreign lands. Some of them are on the El Centro National, of El Centro, California, the First National, of Yuma, the First National, of Orange, California, and the First National, of Riverside, California.

HAS APPEARANCE OF MORE REBATE TROUBLE

Several Prominent Railroads are Under Investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—It became known today that the Interstate Commerce commission has been conducting an extended investigation into discriminations and special privileges which are said to have been made principally in favor of the United States Steel corporation and some of its subsidiaries by railroads which transport iron ore from points on the great lakes. Officials of a dozen railroads are here for a conference with Commissioner Lane, who is conducting the inquiry. The government's investigators allege that certain practices and customs in handling iron ore at the docks have the appearance of discrimination in favor of large shippers. Officials declare if any violations occurred they were technical and unintentional. The Pennsylvania, Bessemer and Lake Erie, New York, Chicago and St. Louis, and the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern are the principal roads affected.

KEEP WATCH FOR BIRDMAN

Aviator Rodgers is at Maricopa and is Scheduled to Arrive in Phoenix Perhaps Before the Noon Hour Today.

WILL LAND AT TAYLOR STREET

Daring Aeroplanist Reached Tucson Yesterday About Noon and After Brief Stop Continued Toward This City.

MARICOPA, Ariz., Nov. 1. (Special.)—Rodgers arrived here from Tucson at five o'clock this evening on his transcontinental trip. He made a successful and safe landing. He leaves at 8 A. M. for Phoenix.

MARICOPA, Nov. 1.—Aviator C. P. Rodgers, flying west on his transcontinental flight, arrived in Maricopa at five this afternoon, having made the flight from Wilcox today, a distance of about 180 miles. He left Wilcox at 11:05 this morning and reached Tucson at one P. M., after exchanging greetings with Aviator Robert G. Fowler who is eastbound on the same kind of voyage. He left Phoenix at 2:45 P. M. but came down here on account of darkness. He will resume his flight to Phoenix tomorrow. He hopes to reach Yuma tomorrow night.

TUSCON, Nov. 1.—C. P. Rodgers, the westward bound transcontinental aviator, arrived at Tucson at one o'clock this afternoon. He was sighted at 12:50 high above the city. After making several circles over the University of Arizona campus, he found he could not affect a landing and alighted in an open field adjacent. He left Wilcox at 11:05 this morning and made the trip of 87 miles to Tucson in 115 minutes. He proceeds westward tomorrow morning, the first stop being at Phoenix. Fowler, who arrived Monday was still here fixing his machine. He says he will start east tomorrow at the same time Rodgers starts west. The two aviators exchanged greetings this afternoon. Rodgers stated today he did not break the American record for sustained flight yesterday as reported, as he stopped in both Deming and Lordsburg for gasoline.

WAR IS DECLARED. But It Is Against Mosquitoes Which Have Caused Yellow Fever Epidemic.

HONOLULU, Nov. 1.—It is likely an extra session of the legislature will be called to deal with the yellow fever situation here. A meeting of citizens was held today and a committee named to cooperate with the health board in a campaign for the extermination of all mosquitoes. For this purpose the entire islands will be disinfected. Forty non-commissioned officers of the army and navy have volunteered as commanders of the various squads of workers. All stagnant pools and swamps will be drained. The fact that the disease is now prevalent in the Polynesians, has caused the health board to issue a warning to the people to take all precautions for if the disease once gets a start here a large death rate may result.

THEY'RE QUITE SERIOUS. Women are not Sure What is Wrong With Currency But Want a Change.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—California's newly enfranchised feminine voters are taking their duties of citizenship seriously, not overlooking even the proposed reorganization of the country's financial system under the Aldrich plan. When the sub-committee of the national monetary commission, headed by Vice Chairman Edward B. Vreeland, of the commission, began today its sittings in this city, two of the state's prominent suffragists, Mrs. Mary Demage, president and Miss Helen Moore, organizer of the state equal suffrage league, attended a portion of the session. Both agreed they did not know much of the subject but were sure there is need for financial reform, so they came to the meeting in order to learn. The committee questioned seven local business men on their views of the Aldrich plan. Only one of the seven offered any criticism.

GOT ANDY'S PICTURE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—United States Marshal Henkel was in a cheerful mood tonight after his round of subpoena serving today upon prominent financiers and men of affairs, named as defendants in the government's suit against the United States Steel corporation. The marshal seemed particularly pleased as he exhibited a trophy in the shape of an autographed photo bearing the words: "Compliments of Andrew Carnegie." He said Mr. Carnegie gave it to him to-day when he called to serve a copy of the dissolution petition filed against the Steel trust. The marshal communicated with J. Pierpont Morgan and served Morgan in the latter's library.

SUBPOENAS ARE SERVED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Subpoenas in the government dissolution suit against the United States Steel corporation have now been served on J. P. Morgan, Charles Steele, Andrew Carnegie, James Gayley, E. C. Converse, D. G. Reid, N. B. Ream, J. D. Rockefeller, Sr. and Jr., J. J. Hill, E. H. Gary of the United States Steel corporation, the Federal steel company, the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines, and the Union Steel company.

Judge Ed W. Wells, of Yavapai County, republican candidate for governor and one of the speakers at the great meeting last night.

WAS AN ACCIDENT IS VERDICT OF THE JURY

Jury Passes on the Cause of Death of One of Country's Noted Aeroplanists.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 1.—Death caused by injuries received in an accident while operating an aeroplane was the verdict of the coroner's jury today in the inquest over Prof. J. J. Montgomery, of Santa Clara college, who was killed while experimenting with a motorless aeroplane in the foothills near here. Montgomery's death informed the public for the first time that he was working on a new type machine, although experiments had been secretly carried on in an obscure part of the hills for some time. J. C. Vierra, Montgomery's assistant, testified that Montgomery was able to rise, descend and rise again at will on his glider. He said fifty previous flights had all been successful.

HE GOT DRUNK. But Juror Slept Off His Jag and Then Was Reprimanded by the Court.

REDDING, Nov. 1.—The trial of Daniel Fleming, the railroad policeman accused of murdering George Villier, a Tacoma boy, whom he caught stealing a ride, was rudely interrupted today when, on opening court, Juror Herman Rickard gave unmistakable signs of intoxication. The court immediately adjourned in the midst of the opening statement by the prosecution, to allow Rickard to "sleep it off." Court reconvened at noon, when Rickard seemed fully recovered. Rickard was reprimanded.

THERE WAS NO PRESSURE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Attorneys A. M. Fitzgerald and George B. Gillespie, of Springfield, who acted as counsel for former State Senator Holstlaw, today told the committee of United States senators, investigating the Lorimer case, that Holstlaw's confession of corruption was made without pressure, suggestion or intimidation. Counsel for Lorimer failed in their efforts to show that either attorney was actuated by other than proper motives.

KING WINTER ARRIVES.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 1.—Real winter, bearing snow and freezing temperature, swept the Missouri valley today. From zero at Bismark, the thermometer graded to 28 above in northern Kansas and Missouri. Sioux City reported zero, Huron six above. Good snow fell throughout central Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota.

HOW D'VE DO AND GOOD-BYE

President Arrives in Washington, Stops a Couple of Hours, and Then Boards the Train Again for New York.

WILL REVIEW THE ATLANTIC FLEET

Afterwards Will Spend Few Days in Maine, Then He Will Take the Road for a Journey to Southern States.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—President Taft got back to Washington tonight after an absence of more than two months. His stay in the city was brief, however, for just two hours after he concluded his "voyage" of nearly 15,000 miles by alighting at the Union station, he was again aboard his special train, bound for New York, where early tomorrow he will review the Atlantic fleet, assembled in New York harbor.

Immediately after his arrival, accompanied by Secretary Hilles and Major Butts, he went to the White House, instead of remaining in his car as planned. In the executive offices he was welcomed by Secretary Knox and Secretary Stimson with whom he conferred. The conference lasted until fifteen minutes before train time. At its conclusion both secretaries announced there was nothing to be given out. It is understood, however, the arbitration treaties and the Chinese troubles were discussed.

It was just seventy-one days ago that Taft started. He came to Washington today from Morgantown, where he assisted in the inauguration of Thomas Hodges, president of the University of West Virginia. He made several speeches during the day.

From New York the president goes to Hot Springs, Maine for a four days rest, after which he will again "take the road" for a trip to Cincinnati and several cities in Kentucky and Tennessee. The trip will finally end in Washington November 12.

ATHLETE GETS DISCHARGE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Melville W. Shepard, the world's greatest distance runner, was today dishonorably discharged from the 22nd regiment of the state guards, for failure to attend drills and pay fines. Shepard said work of the customs service kept him from attending to military duty. The discharge may prevent him from competing in the Olympic championships at Stockholm next year.

THAT'S SOME RIDING.

BURLINGAME, Nov. 1.—Tired but victorious, Percy Selby, a clubman, galloped into the Country club here tonight with five hundred miles hard horseback work behind him, which he covered in nine days. Selby rode to San Luis Obispo and back on a wager that he could accomplish it within ten days. He wins the wager by more than twenty-four hours. He said he felt fine.

DEMURRER OVERRULED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—The technical demurrer of Dr. John Grant Lyman, the Los Angeles land promoter, to the indictment charging conspiracy to escape custody of the federal authorities, was overruled today by Judge DeHaven. Lyman will plead tomorrow.

NO POST SEASON GAMES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—In an interview today Al T. Baum, newly elected president of the Pacific coast league, declared he would discontinue the post season games in the future on the grounds that they are an imposition on the public and a bad thing for baseball in general.

HE SUCCEEDS BUTLER.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—William Scheimpf was appointed today chairman of the American Automobile association to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Samuel M. Butler killed in an auto accident during the Glidden tour.

DIMON WINS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1.—Jack Dimon of Indianapolis earned a clean-cut decision over Eddy McGorty of Oshkosh tonight in ten rounds.
